

HOSPITALITY PRACTICE GROUP

Where our customer is always right.

Just like you, we're in the satisfaction business.

If there's one word that warms the hearts of our many hospitality clients, it's "proactive." In your business, liability lurks around every corner, so we partner with you every step of the way to ensure that you're as protected as you are profitable. We're constantly communicating with you, offering you seminars on liquor liability and limiting your exposure to third party discrimination. We survey your employment practices to ensure they're best practices, and proactively manage your workers compensation risk through safety seminars. When the power goes out, we can limit your risk from spoilage. And when the system goes down, we can indemnify you against credit card processing breaches.

Thinking of everything is what we do best at The Hilb Group, and why our Hospitality Practice Group was built to meet your every contingency.

Your goal is to keep your customers happy. That's our goal, too.

How do we succeed? First, last and always: we listen.
